

Have you ever had these questions?

I've received a big supply of my medicine, but how should I store it?

I'm not getting any better. Should I keep taking this medicine?

They taught me how to take this medicine, but I wonder if I'm doing it correctly...

I have to take so many medicines. Is it really safe to use them all together?

What should I do with all this leftover medicine in the house?

These symptoms... Could this be a side-effect of my medicine?

My child won't take his medicine.

Oh no! I've forgotten to take my medicine...

Ask us anything!
Pharmacists are here to answer any and all of your medication-related questions and concerns.

